CLAD TECHNOLOGY

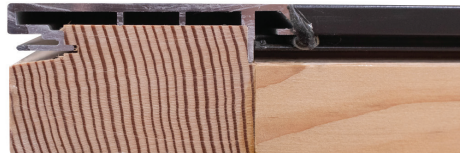

Clad technology refers to the use of two different materials to increase the resilience of our products.

Aluminum Exterior

The aluminum exterior will withstand the elements better and require less maintenance and repairs.

Wood Interior

Vertical Grain Fir is indigenous to the Northwest and as such has become a favored standard. However, based on aesthetic, structural requirements, availability and budget, almost any species can become a consideration.

Color Matching

For a truly custom look on both your windows and doors, Stile will match any manufacturer's colors, or your own custom color, for no additional cost.

For Architects and Designers alike, Stile offers an endless palette for conceptual design.

Glass

Stile sources glass from several suppliers based on size, design and performance requirements. If sound is an issue, we can offer solutions that may include laminated glass.

Sill Options

Sill selection plays a major role in door performance and should be one of the first considerations when designing your openings. Stile offers solutions for every aesthetic and level of exposure. Aluminum, Wood, Fiberglass, Flush, Raised and Self-Draining sills are all available options.
